

Attachment No. 2 to the CONFERENCE APPLICATION CARD

Protection of Intellectual Property

(1) The Conference Participant delivering the Lecture (the "Speaker") is fully responsible for the form and content of the Lecture.

2 The Speaker undertakes to develop and present an authoritative Lecture and guarantees that the Lecture will not violate the rights and personal rights of third parties, contain theses and views inciting hatred or discrimination against any person on the basis of race, culture, ethnicity, religion, worldview or gender. Furthermore it is unacceptable to promote in the content of the lecture the ideology and symbolism associated with totalitarian systems, as well as the presentation of other topics prohibited by generally applicable laws.

(3) If any part of the Lecture consists of legally protected elements, the rights to which shall not be vested in the Speaker, the Speaker warrants that he/she is entitled to use them to the extent necessary to deliver the Lecture and to grant the Organiser the licence referred to in this paragraph, without the need for the Organiser to obtain additional consents and permissions.

(4) The Speaker agrees to a one-time public presentation of the Lecture to the Conference Participants, made by the Speaker at the venue indicated by the Organiser. In the event that third parties make claims against the Organiser and/or entities acting on behalf of the Organiser (hereinafter referred to as the "Eligible Entities") that are related to the Lecture or its individual elements, the Speaker shall:

(a) shall indemnify the Organiser and/or the Entities entitled from the claims in question to the extent that he/she was obliged to acquire from third parties the rights to the legally protected elements of the Lecture, including the copyright, the right to exercise subsidiary and related rights thereto and the individual elements thereof, as well as to obtain from them the permissions and authorisations referred to in this paragraph; and

b) shall be fully liable for any and all damages incurred by the Organiser and/or the Entities entitled by virtue of the claims referred to in (a) above, including primarily, but not exclusively, damages relating to a claim for compensation for the unlawful use of the Lectures or the unlawful use of their individual elements.

The Speaker grants the Conference Organiser a non-exclusive, time- and territory-limited, quantitative and qualitative licence, with the right to grant a sub-licence in the same scope as the licence, to use the Lecture - recorded in the form of a digital text file, in its entirety or in part, individually or as part of a collective work, in combination with works and elements freely selected by the Organiser (including, but not limited to, the lectures of other Speakers in the Conference and the lectures of other Participants in the Conference).

a) The licence referred to in para. 6 above (hereinafter referred to as the "Licence"), is granted to the Organiser upon sending him the Lecture or Presentation in the form of a digital text file - according to the provisions, and in relation to the recording of the Lecture in the form of a Recording - upon the speech of the Speaker and its recording in the form of a Recording, and covers the use of the Lecture in the following fields of exploitation: a) in terms of recording and multiplication of the Lecture - production of copies of the Lecture using all available techniques, including printing, reprography, magnetic recording and digital techniques;

b) within the scope of dissemination of the Lecture - public performance, exhibition, display, reproduction, as well as broadcasting and re-broadcasting, as well as making the Lecture available to the public using all available techniques, including use on the Internet and other computer networks, making it available to the public at public exhibitions or displays;

c) the right to freely use and exploit the Lecture and its individual elements for the purposes of advertising, promotion or statutory activity conducted by the Organiser in the country and abroad. 6.

6 The Conference Organiser, while making conference materials available to the Participants, pays particular attention to the need to respect the Participants' intellectual property rights. Participants undertake to use the materials made available to them by the Organiser exclusively for their own personal use. Participants bear full responsibility for any damage resulting from their behaviour contrary to the above stipulation.
